Subject: Services for Students Enrolled in Nonpublic Schools

Resident students enrolled in nonpublic schools are eligible for instruction in the areas of gifted and talented, occupational education and special education as well as counseling, psychological and social work services.

Such instructional services will be provided to resident nonpublic school students through the public school district in which their nonpublic school is located or the Board of Cooperative Educational Services serving that public school district.

Transportation arrangements will be made by the student’s district of residence between the nonpublic school and the public school where services are provided.
